

THE FUTURE

According to the British Government the position is either the retention of the status quo or to find a formula which allows the Gibraltar Government to move forward with a modernised constitution. This is a decision that can only be made by the Gibraltarians as expressed in a future Referendum."

* * *

David Chidgey, 59, educated at Brune Park County High School, Gosport, Royal Naval College, Portsmouth and the Portsmouth Polytechnic, is married to Carolyn Idris-Jones and they have 1 son and 2 daughters. He won the Eastleigh by-election in 1994 and by profession is a consulting engineer.